

CRIMINOLOGY MODULE

SUMMATIVE ASSIGNMENT (2015)

(Marks: 70)

INSTRUCTION'S

- All assessed coursework is to be typewritten and must contain an accurate word count and bibliography.
- The deadline for submission is Friday 10 April 2015 (7:00pm) (No excuse for late submission will be accepted or marked At Any Cost)
- The word limit is 6,000 words (to exclude footnotes, references and bibliography).

Please note the Law School's regulations regarding deduction of marks for exceeding word limits.

- Please consult your lecturer for further rules on essay presentation.
- All assessed coursework should be written in your own words; any kind of plagiarism will not only lead to failure, but also prohibit your degree. "As stipulated by HEC"

(It is expected that the answer to the following question[s] will necessitate private research and reading beyond the material listed on the seminar sheets / PPT/ folder's).

Please read the following essay titles carefully. Answer one question only. Failure to properly address the question in the exact terms in which it is set may lead to a fail mark.

1. The "bare fear" of serious bodily injury, or even death, however well-grounded, will not justify the taking of human life. . . . "There must [also] be some overt act indicative of imminent danger at the time. In other

MIAN ALI HAIDER,
L.L.B., L.L.M. (Cum Laude)
U.K.